TASCON 2022 - Call for Abstracts

Information

The Trauma Anesthesiology Society is inviting you to submit an abstract to our conference on 21 October 2022 in New Orleans. We will accept academic submissions and case reports that are relevant to trauma anesthesia, critical care, pre-hospital care and trauma simulation. If your abstract is accepted, you will be invited to either display your abstract as an e-Poster or as a podium presentation. Selected abstracts will be reformatted by the trauma section editor and published in a special presentation in Anesthesia and Analgesia.

Abstract format

- Please use the standard ASA abstract headings: Introduction/Methods/Results/Discussion/References.
- Authors: No more than ten authors are permitted for each abstract.
- There is no word count limit, but the entire abstract should fit onto a single page.

General guidelines

- Abstract submission is free and there are no limits set on the number of abstracts that can be entered.
- Where appropriate, please provide details of ethical committee approval for your work.
- All abstracts accepted for presentation at TASCON, are embargoed (may not be published or publicized) until the date and time of presentation or viewing.
- Authors invited to present their abstracts as podium presentations, will be required to attend the TASCON in person between 1700 and 1800 on 21 October 2022 in New Orleans.

Timelines

June 1 2022 - Abstract submission is open.

Sept 18 2022 - Abstract submission will close.

Sept 30 2022 - Authors will receive acceptance notifications by email.

Oct 21 2022 - TAS Conference venue from 1400 to 1800.
